DESIGNER DIPLOMACY: As far as India is concerned, Akshata Murty is walking the ramp. With their ringside view upon her arrival in Delhi for the G20 summit, Indians have been going over her sartorial choices as if they packed her suitcases themselves. The former fashion designer, who recently topped Tatler's best-dressed list and is known for her sense of style, was watched closely on her trip back home. We'd have walked in and out of her closet if she'd let us. During the entire time she was here, the country was in suspense over what she'd wear next. Game about being seen as a clotheshorse, Akshata seemed to take this disproportionate interest in her attire in her stride. She did not just wear something to keep warm or cool with the weather in mind, but gave us instead the costume changes that we are accustomed to. Dress, skirt, saree, salwar kameez… Enough to keep us glued to our telly.

Everything she wore has been photographed extensively and preserved as microscope slides. From the in-flight white shirt she donned to adjust husband Rishi Sunak's tie to the demure farewell namaste in a baby pink saree, she was our very own show-stopper. Hanging loose to her shoulders or tied up in a formal bun, her hair spawned historians of its own.

That black T-shirt she held up while meeting students at the British Council, the vibrant lilac dress designed by a half-Indian designer that she wore to an agri exhibition, the green, blue and magenta outfit at the Presidential dinner — we know them so well, it's like we wore them ourselves.

And while she was the cynosure of all eyes on her own, she was equally photogenic as a young wife. There was the walk in the rain with her husband under a red umbrella, the drape of red dupatta while doing the aarti at Akshardham temple… If the couple had broken into a duet in the downpour or tossed the umbrella away at some point, we were ready to smile indulgent smiles.

While the Indian media was divided over the spelling of her surname — Murty or Murthy? — they were in consensus over her fashionista status, reporting on every outfit in well-researched detail throughout the trip. And just because Akshata stole our hearts with her well-planned wardrobe, we will soon steal her designs and sell knockoffs in our shops as the Copycat Collection. — Shinie Antony in The Times of India

Two arrested for smashing through the Great Wall

Beijing: Two Chinese workers were recently arrested for damaging a section of the Great Wall of China by smashing through it with heavy machinery to create a shortcut.

China's Great Wall, one of the very few man-made structures visible from space, was built over several centuries from the third century BC. Long sections of the giant structures are still around today and are protected as heritage sites, but that didn't stop two ignorant workers from smashing through a part of it that happened to be in their way. The two suspects, a 38-year-old man and a 55-year-old woman, were working near the affected area and got tired of having to go around the wall in order to reach their destination.

After being alerted about the damage to the wall, police in Shanxi province followed the tracks left by the excavator straight to the two suspects, who eventually admitted to widening an existing gap in the Great Wall.

REALLY...?

- It was a few thousand years later when socks were first mentioned by Greeks. Poet Hesiod wrote about something called "piloi" in the poem "Works and Days" in the 8th Century BC. Piloi was a type of foot covering made from matted animal hair and was worn under sandals. That sounds horrendously unsanitary and itchy compared to today's super-soft and sumptuous socks, and almost certainly these did not come in luscious lemon yellow and polka-dotted pinks!

Footpath made into home!

Sir,

This corner stretch of footpath on 4th Main, 28th Cross, Vidyaranyapuram, which houses a welding shop, has been literally converted into a room with iron grills, wooden planks, clothes hung for drying, a permanent iron kennel for a dog. This dog is ferocious and recently bit an evening walker also.

Will the authorities concerned clear this encroachment on a priority basis?

Mysuru, Sept. 13 (RK&BS)- Two youths on a jolly drive in a car met with a road accident in the wee hours of yesterday, leaving them injured and damaging three electric poles on Gaddige-Bogadi Road on the outskirts of city.

Nischal, 19, a resident of Vijayanagar fourth stage in the city and his relative Raghav, 20, from Bengaluru are the injured, who have been admitted to a private hospital in Kuvempunagar here.

Nischal had gone on a jolly drive at around 3.45 am, along with Raghav who had come to city a day ago (the before the accident). They were driving at a reckless speed on Gaddige Road towards Bogadi, when the car rammed into three electric poles off the footpath, before coming to a screeching halt. South Western Railway returns passenger's left-behind luggage

Mysuru, Sept. 13 (BCT)- In a commendable act of prompt action and customer service, the South Western Railway (SWR) has returned the luggage of a passenger to its rightful owner, left behind in Train No. 20607, Chennai-Mysuru Vande Bharat Express.

The incident occurred when a passenger, identified as Rahul, filed a complaint through the Rail Madad helpline, reporting the inadvertent abandonment of his luggage while travelling from Chennai to Bengaluru.

Rahul had disembarked the train at Katpadi to make a quick purchase but couldn't reboard in time, inadvertently leaving behind his luggage containing valuable electronic items and personal belongings.

Swiftly responding to Rahul's complaint, the message was relayed immediately to the on-board Train Ticket Examiner (TTE) Jayakumar, along with the Duty Officer and Sub-Inspector/ Railway Protection Force (RPF) personnel stationed in Bengaluru, headed by Sathyanarayan. As the train approached Bengaluru, the Railway staff secured the left-behind luggage and stored it securely in the city.

The bag which contained electronic items with an estimated value of Rs. 4 lakh, was opened in the presence of the complainant. Subsequently, it was returned to Rahul, who expressed his gratitude, officially acknowledging the handover.

Sanjeev Kishore, the General Manager of South Western Railway, commended the exemplary actions of the Commercial and RPF staff in ensuring the safe return of the passenger's belongings, according to the Chief Public Relations Officer of South Western Railway, Hubballi, Aneesh Hegde.

People vie to own 'branded items' sold on footpath!

Mysuru, Sept. 13 (PM&BS)- Like a good old adage in Kannada- Jana Marulo Jatre Marulo, passersby vied with each other to own the look alike products of branded companies, in city yesterday.

Tens of people split in four groups occupying footpath spaces on the either side of Regional Institute of Education (RIE) building on Bogadi Road in city, offered to sell the headphones and wrist watches of reputed companies for a song.

The vendors who claimed to be hailing from Hubballi and Maharashtra with only a few of them speaking Kannada, with rest of them conversing in Hindi, were selling the electronic goods in the name of reputed brands such as Apple and Fastrack, but soon to correct that, they were selling the local versions (copy of the original).

The original price of Apple's AirPods Pro, Wireless Bluetooth in-ear head phone is a whopping Rs. 26,300, but here it was sold at Rs. 700. To woo the customers, the vendors were telling 'Fixed Rate, No discount.'

When asked a vendor whether it is original company product, the latter said with a grin 'iPhone copy, local copy.'

When enquired about the genuineness of wrist watch, they dubbed it as 'Fastrack company copy,' which were available in various designs, colours and sold in the range of Rs. 200 to Rs. 300.

But the buyers didn't have any qualms about the gimcrack goods being sold, but were busy haggling with the sellers to buy them.

Govt. land worth crores of rupees reclaimed near Metagalli

Mysuru, Sept. 13 (RK&DM)- In a major operation, the district officials on Tuesday reclaimed more than 1 acre of prime Government land worth about Rs. 20 crore along the Ring Road near Metagalli, after clearing the encroachment.

Based on numerous public complaints that the land which was acquired by the Government under the Urban Land Ceiling Act (ULCA), was being unauthorisedly used by some persons for monetary gains, the Kasaba Hobli Revenue Inspector had visited the spot and submitted a report to the DC mentioning that Metagalli residents T. Papegowda, T. Yalakkigowda, Santosh and others had been using the land for illegally storing and selling M. Sand, jelly stones and other construction materials in 1.17 acre of land along the Ring Road (Opposite GRS Fantasy Park) near Metagalli, coming under Survey No.62/3 of Metagalli village in Kasaba Hobli of Mysuru taluk.

Following the report, DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra had directed the his sub-ordinate officials for clearing the encroachment. Acting on the DC's directions, AC K.R. Rakshith, Tahsildar B.N. Harish and other officials undertook an encroachment clearance drive yesterday and reclaimed the Government land acquired under ULCA, which is said to be worth Rs. 20 crore.

It is said that the persons who had encroached the said land, had not vacated the land despite several notices by the Revenue Department and other authorities and was using it for years for storing M. Sand and other construction materials, in clear violation of the ULC Act.

Revenue Inspector Raghavendra Nayak, Village Accountant Mahesh, Surveyor Suresh, Revenue Officers Nagesh Kumar, Girish and Bhaskar, MCC Zonal officers and staff were present. Metagalli Police led by Inspector Diwakar provided security during the clearance drive.

Man who extorted money from senior citizen arrested

"The accused even threatened Devaiah with gathering a crowd and assaulting him if the money was not paid. Since the victim did not have that much cash on him, Jameel convinced him to withdraw the cash from an ATM. After a few unsuccessful attempts due to a malfunctioning card, Jameel managed to obtain Rs. 40,000 from Devaiah," explained the City Police Commissioner.

On the same evening, Devaiah reported the incident at Kuvempunagar Police Station, providing a detailed account and informing them about the ATM's CCTV camera capturing the photo of the perpetrator.

Past criminal record

"A case was registered, and during the investigation, our teams discovered that several other senior citizens had been targeted using a similar modus operandi. However, except for Devaiah, no one had lodged a written complaint," City Top Cop B. Ramesh elaborated.

Jameel was arrested on Sept. 12 at 1 pm based on mobile tower location data and information from informants. The Police were conducting rounds in Kuvempunagar at the time of the arrest. "Investigation has revealed that Jameel has a criminal record, with five cases of extortion already filed against him. He confessed to targeting two more elderly citizens using a similar approach," added the Commissioner.

The Police suspect the involvement of an accomplice in the crime and are making efforts to apprehend him.

Under the guidance of DCP (Crime and Traffic) S. Janhavi and Krishnaraja ACP S.E. Gangadharaswamy, the investigative team was led by Kuvempunagar Inspector L. Arun.

Sub-Inspectors S.P. Gopal and M. Radha, along with crime section staff V. Anand, M.P. Manjunath, Hazarath, N.K. Puttappa, Suresh, Nagesh, Amogh and technical staff Kumar, were all part of the nabbing team.

During the media briefing yesterday, the Police Commissioner also spoke about the recovery of Rs. 9.2 lakh that was stolen from a fish stall owned by one Amjad in Mandi Mohalla Police limits on Aug. 27. Farooq, 33-year-old, who used to work in the same shop and another employee have been arrested.

Sculpture teacher targeted on busy Valmiki Road

Mysuru, Sept. 13 (SBD& BCT)- Three months ago, a sculpture teacher became a victim of extortion, but he refrained from filing a complaint to prevent unnecessary panic among his family members.

While driving on Valmiki Road towards Kalamandira, the teacher was closely followed by two youths who alleged that his car had caused an accident and demanded payment of medical expenses.

The culprits staged a fake accident and asked the teacher if he had not heard the collision. The teacher clarified that he hadn't caused any accident and the noise had come from the car's open bonnet. They then stopped the scooter and entered the car, instructing the teacher to drive towards Saraswathipuram.

Subsequently, the criminals insisted that the teacher accompany them to the hospital and cover medical expenses. When the teacher said that he had no cash on hand, they informed him that if cash was unavailable, he must withdraw money from an ATM. While one of the individuals pretended to be in severe pain, the other used an aggressive demeanour to intimidate the teacher. Due to the teacher's urgent need to reach his college, he reluctantly handed over Rs. 1,000. However, the criminals persisted in demanding Rs. 5,000 and fled with the money.

Farmers' protests erupt in Mandya, Ramanagara

Mandya, Sept. 13 (VK, MR& BCT)- Farmers and residents of Mandya, who have been grappling with insufficient rainfall, have strongly opposed the recommendation of the Cauvery Water Regulation Committee (CWRC). The CWRC has suggested that Karnataka release 5,000 cubic feet of water daily to Tamil Nadu for the next 15 days.

Protests erupted in Mandya and Ramanagara immediately after the CWRC's decision was announced. Farmers voiced their discontent by rallying against Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar for their perceived inaction on the matter, even threatening hunger strikes.

This morning, various pro-Kannada organisations staged protests near the Toll Plaza at Kanaminike on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway. Meanwhile, Sarvodaya Party leader and MLA Darshan Puttannaiah expressed his surprise at the CWRC's decision.

He said, "We did not anticipate such a decision. If they proceed with releasing water, we will need to escalate our protests across the Cauvery belt. Although the Government has stated it won't release water, if they do, we are prepared to take action."

Puttannaiah criticised the CWRC for not calculating the required water release properly. He accused the CWRC of showing bias in favour of Tamil Nadu.

HDK flays Government

Former CM H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) vehemently opposed the release of any water to Tamil Nadu under any circumstances, emphasising Karnataka's stance on the matter. He questioned why the CWRC directive disproportionately affects Karnataka when Tamil Nadu does not seem to be facing any significant water issues.

Kumaraswamy criticised the Congress Government for not taking the issue seriously. He highlighted that committee meetings often involve online participation by officials, leading to disputes and a disconnect from ground realities. He argued that Karnataka was not effectively represented, resulting in the Government failing to protect the interests of farmers.

Expressing frustration, Kumaraswamy accused the Government of succumbing to external pressures. He flayed the CM and his deputy for their ineffective management of the Cauvery water issue, which has caused hardship for the State's farmers.

Kumaraswamy also pointed out that Karnataka should have filed objections when Tamil Nadu initially demanded water, but the Government remained silent, and lawyers did not take action.

Cauvery row: CM holds meeting

As a prelude for today's meeting, the CM held a late-night meeting with lawyers yesterday where D.K. Shivakumar, Mysuru District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, Mandya District Minister Chaluvarayaswamy, CM's Legal Advisor and Virajpet MLA A.S. Ponnanna, Advocate General of Karnataka K. Shashi Kiran Shetty, Chief Secretary Vandita Sharma and the CM's legal team were present.

Meanwhile, Dy.CM D.K. Shivakumar, will fly to Jaipur to meet the Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat in Jaipur.

After the CWRC recommendation came out, Shivakumar said that Karnataka is in no position to release Cauvery River water to Tamil Nadu, as it doesn't have enough water storage, due to lack of adequate rainfall in the river basin region. He said, the matter is next going to come before the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA), most probably by tomorrow and Karnataka will vehemently put forward its stand before it.

HC quashes appointment of Prof. N.K. Loknath as Mysore Varsity VC

Prof. Loknath

Bengaluru, Sept. 13- The Karnataka High Court on Tuesday quashed the appointment of Prof. N.K. Loknath as the Vice-Chancellor (VC) of University of Mysore (UoM).

A single Judge Bench of the HC comprising Justice N.S. Sanjay Gowda delivered the verdict while allowing the two petitions — one by Sharath Ananthamurthy, a Professor in the School of Physics, University of Hyderabad and the other by Prof. G. Venkatesh Kumar, a retired Head of the Department of Psychology, UoM. Both were among the contenders for the VC post.

The petitions claimed that the Search-cum-Selection Committee, despite recording adverse remarks against Prof. Loknath in its report on the scrutiny of candidates, had later illegally included his name in the panel of three names recommended for the post.

It was alleged that, Prof. Loknath had concealed the fact that a criminal case was pending against him and his name was included at the last minute though his name did not initially figure in the list of the three names, who included Prof. Sharath Ananthamurthy, Prof. Venkatesh Kumar and Prof. Guru, recommended by the Committee. The Court also directed the State Government to initiate a fresh process to select a VC by appointing a fresh Search Committee by following the procedure prescribed in the Karnataka State Universities Act.

Senior Counsel Ravivarma Kumar, who is also a former State Advocate-General, had argued on behalf of Prof. Sharath Ananthamurthy.

Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, who is also the Chancellor of all Universities, acting on the recommendation of the Search Committee, had on Mar.23, 2023, appointed Prof. Loknath as the VC following which Prof. Loknath had taken charge on Mar.24. The High Court on June 21,2023, had stayed the appointment of Prof. Loknath as VC and since then, the University functioned without a regular VC or an acting VC.

Reacting to the HC order, Prof. Sharath Ananthamurthy (son of renowned writer late Prof. U.R. Ananthamurthy), said he had moved the High Court alleging that there was gross violation of the UGC norms in the appointment. The HC, taking note of his arguments, has quashed the appointment of Prof. Loknath and now a new VC has to be appointed through a fresh selection process. "I will once again apply for the post," he asserted.

WORD OF THE DAY

Ambiguous

Pronunciation: am-BIG-yuh-wus.
Meaning: To describe something as ambiguous is to say that it can be understood in more than one way or that it has more than one possible meaning.
Origin: Ambiguous may highlight the vague and obscure, but its origins are as clear as a bell. This word comes from the Latin verb ambigō or ambigere, meaning "to be undecided; to dispute," which in turn combines amb- ("on both sides") with agere ("to be in motion"). Ambi- is a prefix to many English words denoting two or more options, such as ambivalent, ambidextrous, and ambient. Similar prefixes include bi- (as in bicentennial), di- (as in dialect), and multi- (as in multiverse).
Example: "There are a lot of reasons for medical errors: inexperienced caregivers; ambiguous symptoms; understaffed hospitals, underlying conditions." — Jeffrey Kluger

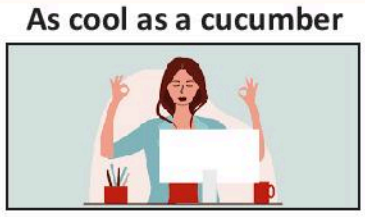
THE ODD WORD

Abessive

Indicating absence or lack.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

As cool as a cucumber



Meaning: The phrase "As cool as a cucumber" means to be very calm, with no worries. Someone who is not affected by pressure.
Origin: The meaning of the word "Cool" in the phrase doesn't mean having a low temperature, on the contrary, it means assured and composed. The phrase was first recorded in a poem by British poet John Gay 'New Song on New Similies' in 1732: "Cool as a cucumber could see the rest of womankind."
Example: John—"It's Beckham with the ball, do you think he'll score? Ron—"Look at him, he's as cool as a cucumber, he'll score with no problem."
